VOLUME CVIII.--NO. 222. ALEXANDRIA, VA., WEDNESDAY EVENING, SEPTEMBER 18, 1907. PRICE 2 CENTS.

That our American forests abound in plants which possess the most valuable medicinal virtues is abundantly attested by scores of the most eminent medical writers and teachers. Even the untutored Indians had discovered the usefulness of many native plants before the advent of the white race. This information, imparted freely to the whites, led the latter to continue investigations until to-day we have a rich assortment of most valuable American medicinal roots.

Dr. Pierce believes that our American forests abound in most valuable medicinal roots for the cure of most obstinate and fatal diseases, if we would properly investigate them; and in confirmation of this conviction, he points with pride to the almost marvelous cures effected by his "Golden Medical Discovery," which has proven itself to be the most efficient stomach tonic liver invigorator, heart tonic and regulator, and blood cleanser known to medical science. Dyspepsia, or Indigestion, torpid liver, functional and even valvular and other affections of the heart yield to its curative action. The reason why it cures these and many other affections, is clearly shown in a little book of extracts from the standard medical works which is mailed free to any address by Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., to all sending request for the same.

Not less marvelous, in the unparalleled cure it is constantly making of woman's many peculiar affections, weaknesses and distressing derangements, is Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, as is amply attested by thousands of unsolicited testimonials constantly received by grateful patients who have been cured by it of catarrhal pelvic drains, painful periods, irregularities, prolapsus and other displacements caused by weakness, ulceration of uterus and kindred affections, often after many other advertised medicines and physicians had failed.

Both the above mentioned medicines are wholly made up from the glyceric extracts of native, medicinal roots. The processes employed in their manufacture were original with Dr. Pierce, and they are carried on by skilled chemists and pharmacists with the aid of apparatus and appliances specially designed and built for this purpose. Both medicines are entirely free from alcohol and all other harmful, habit-forming drugs. A full list of their ingredients is printed on each bottle-wrapper.

Weak Kidneys

Weak Kidneys, surely point to weak kidney Nerves. The Kidneys, like the Heart, and the Stomach, find their weakness, not in the organ itself, but in the nerves that control and guide and strengthen them. Dr. Shoop's Restorative is a medicine specifically prepared to reach these controlling nerves. To doctor the Kidneys alone, is futile. It is a waste of time, and of money as well.

If your back aches or is weak, if the urine scalds, or is dark and strong, if you have symptoms of Brights or other distressing or dangerous kidney disease, try Dr. Shoop's Restorative a month—Tablets or Liquid—and see what it can and will do for you. Druggist recommend and sell

SMASHED WOMAN'S SKULL.

Just before Magistrate Corrigan closed Night Court in New York on the morning of September 14, a man, who said he was Frank J. Miller, presented himself and asked to be locked up.

"I have just ten minutes to live," he told the magistrate. On being questioned Miller said that he had done wrong, just what he declined to say, and reiterated his belief that he was to die immediately.

Magistrate Corrigan sent the man to Bellevue for investigation as to his sanity. A woman, who said she was Miller's wife, went to the hospital repeatedly to see him, and yesterday afternoon called again, and on her promise to take care of the man he was discharged from the institution.

Yesterday afternoon Miller smashed the woman's skull with a heavy hammer and cut her face with a razor; then when he saw that he could not escape the hands of the police, cut his own wrists and throat. Both man and woman are lying in the Roosevelt Hospital in a critical condition. Little hope is entertained by the physicians for the recovery of either.

The woman's name is Delia Moulton, and she is twenty-two years old. Miller is forty-three. They had been living as husband and wife in a rear three-room apartment on the second floor of a Thirty-fifth street tenement for the last two years. They had little to do with other tenants. Miller was supposed to be in the real estate business when he worked. The pair had frequent quarrels, and neighbors allege Miller often beat the woman.

WANTED TEN MILLIONS.

Secret Service Officer Washer was on duty in front of President Roosevelt's house at Sagamore Hill at 7 o'clock last night when he saw a man dressed in overalls and wearing a slouch hat step around from the rear of the house. Washer didn't say anything at first, because he thought the man might be employed on the farm, but when he went up on the porch and started to ring the doorbell Washer asked him what he wanted.

"Want to see the President to get him to make John D. Rockefeller pay me $10,000,000 he owes me," the man said. "I know that's the only way I'll ever get the money."

Washer asked the man about himself and the visitor in the overalls said he was Orlando Toland, and had come all the way from Oxford, Ala., to see the President. He said he beat his way on freight trains to Washington, and when he found the President gone he stole a ride to New York. He walked all the way out to Oyster Bay, he said.

Toland was turned over to secret service men.

When they talked with the man they decided that he was perfectly harmless, gave him what he thought was a letter to Rockefeller, ordering him to pay Toland what he owed him on sight, and then sent him to New York on a train.

Toland told the officers that Rockefeller offered him $65,000,000 if he would find out who murdered a certain woman in St. Paul. He said he didn't discover the murderer, but thought his work on the case was worth at least $10,000,000.

Had Tetter for Thirty Years.

I have suffered with tetter for thirty years and have tried almost countless remedies with little, if any, relief. Three boxes of Chamberlain's Salve cured me. It was a torture. It breaks out a little sometimes, but nothing to what it used to be.—D. H. BEACH, Midland City, Ala. Chamberlain's Salve is for sale by W. F. Creighton & Co., and Gibson & Timberman.

KIDNAPPERS SENTENCED.

Joshua Harrison, brother-in-law of ex-Gov. J. T. Garvis of North Carolina, must serve the 20-year sentence in the penitentiary, according to a ruling made yesterday afternoon by the North Carolina Supreme Court at Raleigh, for kidnapping little Kennith Beasley, the eight-year-old son of State Senator S. M. Beasely, of Currituck county. Harrison is a prosperous and prominent farmer, a neighbor of Senator Beasley, and the kidnapping is alleged to have been the reeking of vengeance in a grudge of long standing Harrison has had against Beasley over temperance legislation that Beasley advocated. The little boy disappeared February 13, 1905, and no trace of him has ever been found.

Theodore D. Hess, formerly a New York policeman, who a week ago pleaded guilty before Judge Foster in General Sessions to a charge of kidnapping, was yesterday sentenced by Judge Foster to serve 14 years and 5 months in Sing Sing prison. Hess was arrested in May last in Baltimore, after taking Elizabeth Grady, described as a 14-year-old girl, away from her home and along with him to Baltimore. Other charges against the man were set aside by the district attorney when it was agreed that he would plead guilty to a charge of kidnapping.

A Humane Appeal.

A humane citizen of Richmond, Ind., Mr. U. D. Williams, 107 West Main St., says: "I appeal to all persons with weak lungs to take Dr. King's New Discovery, the only remedy that has helped me and fully comes up to the proprietor's recommendation." It saves more live than all other throat and lung remedies put together. Used as a cough and cold cure the world over. Cures asthma, bronchitis, croup, whooping cough, quinsy, hoarseness, and phthisic, stops hemorrhage of the lungs and builds them up. Guaranteed by E. S. Leadbeater & Sons, druggists. 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free.

We are certainly excelling ourselves and everybody else in the present quality of Arbuckles' Ariosa Coffee.

No such quality of coffee can be sold out of a bag, bin or tin, or under any other name by anybody in this town, for anything near the same price.

That's a strong statement, but you can take our word for it, and we are the largest dealers in coffee in the world. Another thing—the egg coating on ARIOSA COFFEE does not improve its appearance but preserves the flavor and aroma.

Remember that ARIOSA is not sold to look at, but to drink.

WEDNESDAY EVENING, SEPT. 18 1907.

A WHITE HOUSE deity—in the biting invective of Congressman McCall, of Massachusetts—is what the people of the United States are allowing their government to drift to. He finds the occasion for the warning in the increasing tendency to federal regulation of private and corporate business, and at the Jamestown Exposition, where he spoke yesterday on the one hundred and twentieth anniversary of the national constitution, he questioned the likelihood of the great army of federal detectives escaping the corruption that time seems always to bring to centralized authority. Such a body cannot be any more honest, at least, than local empowered authority would be, he held, and local example is pitifully dishonest. Congressman McCall shared with Judge Parker the honors of the day. The former democratic candidate for President again assailed the gathering of campaign gifts, which he held to be the root of our governmental and commercial evils. Taking up the question of the alliance of corporations and parties through gifts of funds by corporations to aid party success in campaigns, Judge Parker rightly said:

T day what is needed is not to remodel our entire system of government, but to strike at the root of the evil. All that is really needed is to make impossible such an alliance in the future. It can be done. When done we shall have officials who seek only the public welfare. Corporate violators of law will be punished and not screened, and meanwhile honest and thrifty people who seek to better their condition will no longer fear lest in an hour of public passion their investments or their business may be swept rway. Then also will disappear the present excuse for so "bending" the federal constitution as to take away from the States control of their own citizens and their property, and the powers of government will seem to all to be, as they are in reality, properly distributed between the federal and State governments.

THAT the women of today are deserting their idols of the past decade or two and returning to the old-fashioned idea of motherhood as the woman's crowning glory and destiny, thereby assuring a more sturdy, virile and self-reliant race for the future, was the statement of Dr. Ferdinand Raue, made before the Germantown Homeopathic Medical Society at a dinner at the Edouard, in Philadelphia, Monday night. Dr. Raue, who read a paper on "The Feeding of Children," declared that the modern women are slowly but surely forsaking the ideas of freedom from domestic cares and abhorrence of motherhood, which have so largely characterized them for a number of years. Through this he foresees a bright future for the nation and a return of the old-time status of the home and mother. For the sake of coming generations it is hoped that Dr. Raue's prophecies may be fulfilled.

AS WILL be seen by the proceedings of the Court of Appeals published in another column, the court yesterday denied the petition of John S. Barbour against Judge Daniel A. Grimsley, of the Circuit Court of Culpeper, for a writ of prohibition to prevent Judge Grimsley from appointing a county commissioner of the revenue. The decision is of interest to more than a thousand officeholders in the State who hold office by virtue of court appointment. Mr. Barbour contended that the constitution did not contemplate the appointment of State officers by the judiciary. His claim was based largely on the technical ground that the courts could not exercise legislative, executive and judicial functions all three. The Court of Appeals, however, took a different view of the matter.

THE new charter authorized by the Illinois State legislature at its last session for the city of Chicago was rejected by the voters at yesterday's special election by a majority of more than 62,000. The proposed charter provided for a change in the methods of taxation, doing away with several different taxing bodies and concentrating the power of tax levy for city park, school and library purposes in the City Council. It also provided that the city might, by referendum vote, issue bonds up to 5 per cent. of the total actual valuation of taxable property in the city. Those who paid little or no taxes favored the new charter because they had everything to make and nothing to lose, but the tax payers opposed the measure strenuously and defeated it badly.

REPRESENTATIVES of the five Central American republics signed a protocol in Washington yesterday accepting the invitation of the United States and Mexico to negotiate a treaty for permanent peace. But this, however, by no means guarantees peace between these revolutionary disposed States.

The democratic party in New Jersey yesterday nominated Frank S. Katzenbach, jr., former mayor of Trenton, for governor.

From Washington.

Washington, Sept. 18.

This government is considering the possibility of arrangements whereby foreign Jews may become consumers of American canned meats. Jews in Europe, as a whole, refuse to eat meat that is "not koshered," and thereby American packers are the losers. Thus far, Australian packers have been getting practically all the Jewish trade. Shipments of meats from that country are solemnly "koshered," and sealed with a "kosher" by the Jewish authorities after having been examined by the colonial officials for tuberculosis and other diseases. On arrival at the port of destination, the seal is broken in the presence of an official of the Jewish faith, thus fully conforming with the Jewish regulations. Consul Albert Halstead, at Birmingham, reporting to Secretary of Commerce and Labor Straus, says that American canned "kosher" meat might profitably be exported to Europe.

After thorough examination of the nature of the recent accident on the Alabama, experts have reported to the Navy Department that the vessel will be able to accompany her sister battleships on the cruise to the Pacific. The accident was the cracking of the port high-pressure cylinder. She will be sent to the New York navy yard, after her target practice, for repairs.

The condition of national banks, as shown by the comptroller's call of August 22, is interesting. Since a year ago there has been an increase in number of banks of 407, with an increase of $379,600,652 in loans and discounts; an increase of $119,097,092 in deposits, and an increase of $374,307,336 in total resources. Since May 20, there has been a decrease of $58,339,925 in the amount due from national banks, etc.; an increase of $12,760,397 in capital stock; an increase in surplus of $14,444,715; a decrease of $90,046,674 in the amount due national banks, etc.; a decrease in individual deposits of $3,844,738, and a decrease in total resources of $86,173,031.

The Department of Justice is greatly elated over the recent opinion of Chief Justice Clark, of North Carolina, who in concurring in a decision in a peonage case, went out of his way practically to declare the State statutes under which the action was defended, as unconstitutional. These statutes are said to be almost identical with those of half a dozen Southern States, and it is against that constitutionality that the federal government has been striving for months to break up peonage practices in Florida, Georgia, Alabama, Louisiana and Arkansas.

Official condolences were sent today to the Japanese government by both the State and Navy Departments on account of the accident to the battleship Kashima, confirmation of the press dispatches having been received from the American embassy in Tokio. The embassy attributes the accident to an explosion of shells aboard the vessel, and gives the number of casualties as 31 killed and 10 wounded.

Senator Martin spent a few hours in Washington yesterday at the Raleigh Hotel. His business was of a private nature and consisted in departmental work.

Funeral services over the remains of Rear Admiral John G. Walker, retired, whose death occurred in New York Monday, will be held at All Soul's Church, this city Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock, and interment will be made in Arlington cemetery.

By order of the President the Navy Department has accepted the resignations of Midshipman Clarence C. Riner, of Cheyenne, and Oscar G. Salb, of Jasper, Ind., accused of taking French leave from the academy limits. They had been sentenced to dismissal, and the President permitted them to resign.

The Merchant Coal Company, of West Virginia and Pennsylvania, called upon the Interstate Commerce today to see whether the Baltimore and Ohio Railway Company had divorced itself from the coal business. It charges that the railway company is discriminating against it, in the matter of cars and in favor of the Cumberland and Pennsylvania Railroad.

PRIEST CONVICTED.

Ludwig Szczgiel, the Roman Catholic priest from Chicago, was convicted of murder in the second degree, in Pittsburg, Pa., yesterday, for killing Andrew and Stephen Starzynski. The Starzynskis were shot by the priest at their residence in the South Side.

The trial, which was one of the shortest important murder trials ever held in the Allegheny courts, was a conglomeration of sensational testimony and features. To protect himself from the supreme penalty of the law the priest unburdened his past life, frankly confessing his many shortcomings, especially his drunkenness.

During his testimony he admitted that Francesca Sprow, his housekeeper, who was in the house when the double murder was committed, and is now held as a witness, had accompanied him to Pittsburg from Chicago. It developed that the housekeeper occupied the same room with one of the Starzynski brothers, following which admission District Attorney Goehring remarked, "There you have the motive." The district attorney charged it was jealously.

SOUTHERN'S APPEAL HEARD.

The appeal of the Southern Railway in the matter of the $30,000 fine imposed on it for selling tickets at a rate in excess of 2 1-4 cents, was heard in the Supreme Court of North Carolina at Raleigh yesterday. The Southern pleaded that the federal court having taken jurisdiction the State court did not have jurisdiction; that in being forced into the trial in the case of Ticket Agent Green it is being deprived of its property with due process of law; that the $500 penalty suits against individuals rendered null and void any indictment against the road. The State contended that its courts have jurisdiction, and that in enforcing criminal law the federal court cannot intervene.

Four men were killed and four others seriously hurt early yesterday when a powerful racing automobile, while running at a terrific rate, crashed into a telephone pole at the bottom of the West Hurfando street hill at Colorado Springs, Col., and was wrecked. The machine was built to carry but four persons, but actually held eight. The bodies of three of the dead were mangled almost beyond recognition.

Miss Lillian McCully, telegraph editor of the Oswego, N. Y., Daily Times, was fonnd dead in her room this morning. She was about forty years old, and prominent in literary and musical circles. Heart disease was the cause of her death.

It is generally understood in Wall street that John D. Rockefeller, sr., has of late been directing Standard Oil affairs, owing to the indefinite absence of H. H. Rogers. He has been at No. 26 Broadway, the oil offices, a number of times recently.

Returning home for his noon meal in Chicago today, George Zturnis saw his father Martin, aged 54 years, place a pistol to the temple of his mother, Mary 45 years old and pull the trigger. He then turned the revolver against his own skull and snapped it.

Agrarian troubles have broken out again in southern Italy. The troops present are insufficient to cope with the rioters, who already have damaged property. There have been frequent in conflicts among the strikers, the non-strikers, and the troops, in which the soldiers have used their bayonets freely.

Six young boys at the Convent of St. Agnes, Sparkill, in New York, were arrested at that institution yesterday, charged with setting fire to the convent early last Saturday morning, when the building was barely saved from burning down with 600 children sleeping therein. The boys made a full confession, saying they were tired of the place and wanted to burn it down.

Elmer R. Reynolds, a clerk in the Pension Office in Washington, died at the Casualty Hospital about 1 o'clock this morning, as the result of injuries received when run over by an automobile yesterday afternoon. The man was hit by the automobile as he was alighting from an eastbound car near the corner of Third and C streets a few minutes after 5 o'clock.

More than $1,000,000 has been left to the Masonic Grand Lodge of Pennsylvania, as a fund for the establishment and maintenance of an institution for the support and education of male orphans of Masons under the provisions of the will of Thomas R. Patton, who died September 1b, and who was treasurer of the grand lodge for 34 years. The estate left by Mr. Patton is valued at between $2,000,000 and $3,000,000.

Judge Grosscup, in the federal court at Chicago, yesterday fixed the bond for the appearance of the Standard Oil Company of Indiana in its appeal from Judge Landis' decision at $4,000,000. This is to guarantee that all the property of the company in Illinois will be kept intact until the appeal is heard. He fixed the bond in the plea for a writ of supersedeas at $2,000,000. The Standard Oil of New York was accepted as surety in both cases.

The Sovereign Grand Lodge of Odd Fellows at its first business session at St. Paul yesterday overwhelmingly defeated the constitutional amendment excluding wholesale liquor dealers from membership in the order. Retail liquor dealers have been barred from membership for 10 years. The proposal to reduce the age of eligibility to membership from 21 to 18 years was defeated. Denver, Col., was selected as the place of meeting next year.

The attention of the Pope is now directed toward the excessive number of religious houses in Rome, especially convents for nune, many of whom received orders without the statutory donation, thus burdening the scanty resources of the community. The Pope has not only decided to refuse permits for the establishment of new convents, but is inclined to suppress some of the existing institutions and order the nuns to return to their families. The Vatican is determined not to grant further pecuniary assistance.

A conductor on the Louisville and Nashville southbound train yesterday ejected a passenger from the train at Decatur, Ala., because he refused to pay 3 cents per mile to ride. The passenger when asked for his ticket, it is said, tendered 2 1-2 cents per mile, the rate adopted by the last Alabama legislature. The conductor is said to have refused this and put the passenger off the train. It is believed a case will be made to test the validity of Federal Judge Jones's injunction restraining the putting into effect of the new rates.

The new charter authorized by the Illinois legislature at its last session for the city of Chicago was rejected by the voters at yesterday's special election by a majority of over 62,000. Little more than half of the registered vote was cast, final figures, unofficial, showing 59,446 ballots for the charter and 122,054 against it. The total vote polled was 181,500, out of a registered vote of 361,968. The light vote was due to some extent to the fact that the election was a special one and that the granting of time off for the purpose of voting was optional with employers. In the majority of cases voters were obliged to go to the polls before going to work or not at all.

Warrants Issued.

Harrisburg, Pa., Sept. 18.—Warrants were issued today at the instance of Attorney General Toddy for fourteen men who are all charged with conspiracy to cheat and defraud the commonwealth in connection with the erection and furnishing of the capitol, and there are thirty counts included under the one general charge.

Mrs. Thaw is accompanied by Miss Dohrman, W. McKnight, and F. A Dohrman.

Counsel for the "dry" at Staunton yesterday announced that they would not prolong the contest over the recent local option election any longer. The contest has been the most notable in the State. The "wets" won July 12 by twenty-four votes. The "dry" alleged fraud and carried the case to the Corporation and Court of Appeals. The latter court refused to issue a mandamus requiring the registrars to purge the registration lists, and the "drys" gave up the fight.

MR. BARR RESIGNS.

As a climax to the social war which recently broke out at the Jamestown Exposition between President Tucker and Director General Barr, the latter yesterday sent his resignation to the committee, composed of Joseph Bryan, of Richmond, and others, recently appointed to adjust differences between himself and President Tucker. Coming so suddenly as it did, and with its caustic references to President Tucker, the letter caused a sensation.

The trouble started over the appointment of Charles W. Kohlsaat, of New York, as diplomatic representative of the exposition, to perform duties which had been previously performed by Mr. Tucker. In his letter, Mr. Barr says:

"I beg to ask that you will kindly take action at once to relieve me of the director generalship of the Jamestown Exposition at the earliest practicable day. When I consented to accept this office, as a public duty, without compensation, to save the exposition from impending failure, it was with the distinct condition that I be placed in undivided control of the management thereof. This condition was accepted by the directors of the company, who amended the by-laws so as to place such control in me. The president of the company has recently set up the claim, in conflict with the by laws, that he is the social head of the exposition, and denies my right to direct the manner of entertaining distinguished visitors to the exposition, and in so doing has failed to comply with your decision in this connection, made August 30 last, and has refused to transfer, upon my request certain persons now employed in his office, to assist Col. Burton H. Grundy, appointed by me to represent me in this work, in pursuance of an understanding reached with you. As the failure to treat distinguished visitors to the exposition on the day of its opening, and since, with the coursesy due them, has brought discredit and great loss thereto, as is commonly known, it is clear that their treatment is a matter of business interest to the exposition, and vital to its success. As I am practically powerless, under the conditions existing, to act in this matter as the interests of the exposition demand, and as I cannot continue to work for the exposition under conditions existing, without sacrifice of self-respect, I have decided to take this action."

President Tucker last night declined to make any statement in reference to the resignation of Director General Barr.

It is announced that the board of directors will be called in session at once, and it is believed that the resignation will be promptly accepted. Thomas S. Southgate is mentioned as Mr. Barr's successor.

Members of the board of directors last night declined to discuss the resignation, but it is understood that the company will in no way be embarrassed by Mr. Barr's action.

It is thought by many that Mr. Barr's resignation will be taken up at an early meeting of the directors, and that they will, in preference to allowing it to go through, make such changes as he desires and make him, in fact, the head of the entire Exposition.

JUDGE PARKER'S WARNING.

The menace of the new federalism as advocated by President Roosevelt, was the theme of former Judge Alton B. Parker, in his address yesterday in the celebration of "Constitution Day," at the Jamestown Exposition. Congressman Samuel W. McCall, of Massachusetts, also voiced a note of warning against the danger of greater centralization of federal power. Judge Parker in his address briefly reviewed the political conditions under which the constitution was framed. "It is proposed merely with a view to attacking greater efficiency to substantially change the form of government of the United States," the judge observed. "The rottenness which offends our nostrils is bred of an unholy alliance of administration and favored interests. In this hour of angry retaliation upon the corporations we must not forget that public officers are themselves most to blame (in the demand for campaign contributions.) Party success has been placed above public duty."

Rumored Wreck of Steamer.

Seattle, Wash., Sept. 18.—A report has reached here that 300 persons were drowned in a wreck on Bristol Bay. The name of the vessel is not given. As none of the steamship agencies have any word the story is not generally credited.

Today's Telegraphic News.

Investigating Standard Oil Company

New York, Sep. 18.—Clarence P. Fay, assistant controller of the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey, brought to court several books containing records of the oil trusteeship when he appeared today before Special Examiner Ferriss in the government suit to dissolve the New Jersey corporation.

The trusteeship, which existed from 1882 to 1892, before the organization of the present company, is the main object of attack by Frank B. Kellogg, counsel for the government, in the present status of the case. Kellogg, is making a vigorous fight to discover just how the trusteeship was developed into the Standard of New Jersey and just how the stock in the present hundred-million-dollar concern was apportioned among those who pooled their holdings in various oil companies forming the trusteeship.

Fay was the first witness today. He submitted a statement of the income from the "C. M. Pratt Investment" showing it to have been $137,400 in 1902; $1,099,200 in 1903; $1,853,700 in 1904; $137,350 in in 1905 and disappeared in 1906.

Kellogg asked Fay from what this income originated, but Fay said that he knew only that it was paid in by C. M. Pratt.

Morritz Rosenthal, of Chicago, counsel for the Standard Oil Co., interrupted to say there was no attempt to conceal the fact that this investment was holdings of stock in the Water-Pierce Oil Company, of Missouri, held by C. M. Pratt, for the Standard.

It was shown today that dividends of many times the capital stock of corporations controlled by the Standard Oil Company were the rule and not exception under the Rockefeller administration.

This fact became known today. For years the earnings of the Standard and its subsidiary companies have been clouded in mystery, but at the proceedings today there was dragged from a reluctant witness, Assistant Controller Fay, an array of figures that staggered the experts relative to the earnings of the seventeen subsidiary companies of the Standard.

The totals from these companies approximated: Capital $92,255,200; dividends paid in 1903, $47,846,985; profits that same year, $63,635,958; dividends paid in 1906, $41,369,625; profits that same year, $57,349,032. Mr. Fay explained that the figures as quoted by him were correct.

Deed of a Jealous Man.

New York, Sept. 18.—Mad with jealousy of the girl for whom he had given up a military career, country, and wife, Lieutenant Julius Hoffman, late of the Austro-Hungarian army, early today shot Miss Draga Siegel, his former colonel's daughter, and then turned the weapon upon himself only to have the dying woman dash it from his hand. Hoffman, a handsome man of 34, is at the east Thirty-fifth street police station, apparently little better than a raving maniac. His wife is in Bamenfort, W Va., where she has a suit pending for a divorce from her husband and $15,000 damages from Miss Siegel on the ground that the latter alienated Hoffman's affections. Shot just over the heart, the head and in the shoulder Miss Siegel is dying in Bellevue Hospital.

Hoffman's first shot struck Miss Siegel in the left breast just above the heart and his second in the shoulder. The girl fell and, concluding that she was dead, the former lieutenant pointed the revolver at his own head and was about to pull the trigger when Miss Siegel staggered to her feet, grappled with him for the revolver and, and as it was discharged, received the bullet in her own throat. The third of Hoffman's bullets ranged upward and lodged at the base of Miss Siegel's skull where it will probably cause her death in a few hours. Miss Siegel was to have come into her fortune of $100,000 on her 21st birthday, but a few days distant. Hoffman has been employed in his country as manager of a manufacturing establishment.

H. H. Rogers's Condition.

Fair Haven, Mass., Sept. 18.—H. H. Rogers may be fully as sick as his lawyers, relatives and physicians represented at this week's hearing before Supreme Justice Hammon, but his townspeople are generally agreed that he does not look it. There has been some falling off in his former vigor of manner, but, for an old man, those who known him, say they think he looks remarkably well. He is out every day and all day at a time, frequently makes long trips alone, runs his electric victoria without a chauffer's aid, talks jovially with old friends and never says a word about his reported illness.

Youths Charged with Murder.

Houlton, Me., Sept. 18.—Guy and Fred Tarvis, cousins, both under 20, were brought to the local jail today as the result of the death of Oscar and Guy Downing, who were shot and killed in the woods near Limestone village during a quarrel over hunting rights. The Downing brothers, who are 19 and 16 years old, were shooting partridges when they met Guy Tarvis. A dispute arose over the latter's right to hunt in that territory and the Downings ordered him to leave. Tarvis went, but later, it is alleged, returned with his cousin. The quarrel was renewed and the Downings were killed.

Woman Charged with Embezzlement

Newburyport, Mass., Sept. 18.—Officers arrived from Pittsburg, Pa., today to arrange for the extradition of Bertha A. Goodwin, the woman lawyer, who has a reputation throughout this part of the State for wearing man's apparel. The Pittsburg authorities want her for alleged embezzlement and obtaining money under false pretenses. Six hundred dollars is the amount named in the warrant. Miss Goodwin was arrested last night arrayed in overalls, shirt and a man's hat.

Japanese Steamship Burning.

London, Sept. 18.—The Japanese steamship Taifu Maru is burning at Ching Kiang, many of the crew and passengers are missing and most of them are probably dead, according to a Shanghai dispatch to Lloyds. A Shanghai dispatch to a news agency here estimates the number of dead at 100.

Fire at Toulon.

Toulon, France, Sept. 18.—Fire in the general ordnance stores threatened an explosion today which could not have failed to cause damage running far into the millions and probably heavy loss of life. Though the flames were finally extinguished with losses not exceeding $10,000 it was only by the most desperate efforts and at terrible risk that they were prevented from reaching the ammunition magazines. The fire is supposed to have been of an incendiary origin.

Double Suicide Suspected.

Youngstown, O., Sept. 18.—Mill Creek is being dragged today in an effort to discover whether or not Arthur Ellenberger, aged 12, and his sister, Ada, aged 15, kept their promise to die together. When Mrs. W. W. Ellenberger returned last night from the store she found a note on the kitchen table signed by the children. It read: "We are despondent. We are going to kill ourselves. You'll find us in the water by Mill Creek Park."

Alleged Black Hand Crime.

New York, Sept. 18.—Because he refused to pay tribute of $500 to the "Black Hand," Mano Antonio, Italian contractor, and his wife and five children had a narrow escape from death today when unknown parties set off a bomb that demolished their flat. The explosion caused a panic in the neighborhood which necessitated the calling of police reserves. No one was injured.

New York Stock Market.

New York, Sept. 18.—Stocks made moderate gains around the room in the early trading. At the end of the first hour the market was weak.

THE STANDARD OIL COMPANY.

The taking of testimony from officers and directors of the Standard Oil Company, of New Jersey, for use in the United States Circuit Court in St. Louis, was commenced in New York, yesterday before Franklin Ferris, of Missouri, special referee appointed by the judge of the federal court. The evidence will be introduced in the St. Louis suit, which was brought against the Standard Oil Company, of New Jersey, and 70 other subsidiary corporations by Attorney General Moody last November to secure the dissolution of the Oil Trust because of its imputed violation of the Sherman act.

At the opening of the session Mr. Kellogg announced that all of the requisite data had been placed in his hands by the company's officers.

The testimony yesterday showed the following:

During eight years dating from 1899, the assets of the Oil Trust increased from $200,791,620 to $371,864,531.

The increase in assets came from 19 subsidiary companies controlled by the big corporation.

The Standard Oil Company of New Jersey owns 9,990 of 10,000 shares of the Standard Oil Company of Indiana, which was fined $29,400,000.

The secretary of Standard Oil holds a majority of the stock of the Waters-Pierce Oil Company of Texas.

The income from the Texas investment in two years jumped from $137,000 to $1,853,700.

Between 1899 and 1906 the Oil Trust paid dividends amounting to $307,359,430.

The gross profits during the eight years were $490,315,934.

TOO MANY HOLIDAYS.

Tiring of frequent shut-downs of the works, caused by numerous holidays among the foreigners, orders have been placed by the big coke companies of the Connellsville and Klondike regions of Pennsylvania to supply 2,000 English-speaking workmen. Agents of the companies are in Pittsburg and the East trying to fill the orders.

This is the beginning of a movement that eventually will wipe out foreign labor almost entirely in the mines and coke works. The operators are taking the step in the face of the fact that men are scarce, but they say that the expense of frequent shut-downs cannot be born longer. In the calender of the foreigners every feast day in their church is a holiday, and they refuse to work. Weddings and funerals are also made reasons for jollifications.

Frequently the holidays last the greater part of a week. In the meantime the power plants at the works must be kept in operation, burning immense quantities of coal. This is all a dead loss to the operators.

A GIRL WALKING BOMB.

The St. Petersburg police yesterday arrested a young girl nicknamed Wanda who is accused of participation in a plot to blow up the headquarters of the secret police, situated on the Molka Canal, whose torture chambers have aroused bitter fellings on the part of the revolutionists. The police claim that "Wanda" planned to become a "walking bomb," and enter the headquarters building in the middle of the day, when it is generally full of police, wearing the uniform of a gendarmerie officer, lined with wads of guncotton and carrying powerful bombs. "Wanda," the police add, hoped by blowing herself up to reduce the entire building to ruins and kill all the officers composing the staff of the political police. The plot was berayed and the police, in addition to taking "Wanda" into custody, arrested a Jewish tailor, in whose shop they seized a half-ready uniform which was intended for the woman.

THE CULPEPER TRAGEDY.

William Seal was locked up in jail at Culpeper last night after the coroner's jury had returned a verdict finding that he had lured his son-in-law, Joseph Smith, to the door Sunday night and shot him to death. In a near-by cell is Fred Jenkins, another son-in-law of Seal, charged with being accessory to the murder.

The two men are kept in separate cells, for Jenkins confessed yesterday that Seal had killed Smith, after having tried in vain to induce Jenkins to fire the first shot. The father-in-law does not know that Jenkins has charged him with the murder, and Commonwealth Attorney Waite does not propose to allow him to become acquainted with the fact at present.

Jenkins protested his innocence at the inquest Monday, declaring he could prove an alibi. Yesterday, however, he weakened, after the bloodhounds had picked up the trail of Smith's slayers and tracked them to Jenkins's house, sharp questioning brought confession.

Seal in his testimony said:

"Smith and I had not been on friendly terms since he married my daughter. We have not spoken or had anything to do with each other. I told Smith at the Orange colt show last year I would kill him if he didn't keep away from me. I hit him too."

Seal is about fifty years old. He has a wife and seventeen children. He swore he was at his home at the hour when Smith was shot down.

"I ain't got but one gun," he said. "That is the one my father carried in the war.

"Smith tried to persuade Fred's wife to leave him. Fred's wife told her husband about it three weeks ago," he said.

Persistent questioning did not bring out further details of the attempts of the one son-in-law to alienate the affections of the wife of the other. Jenkins said when put on the stand yesterday that he paid no attention to what his wife had told him about Smith's trying to induce her to go away.

In his confession yesterday Jenkins said Seal tried to get him to shoot Smith and offered to give him a farm if he committed the deed. Jenkins refused but agreed to accompany Seal, and borrowered the gun with which the murder was done, after Seal had threatened to kill Jenkins if he refused to aid him. He said they then went to Smith's house, where Seal called him out and shot him.

The bloodhounds' trail corroborated many parts of Jenkins' story. The jury held Seal on the charge of murder and Jenkins as accessory. The prisoners were taken to jail at Culpeper, but it is possible they may be transferred to Alexandria for safe keeping.

COURT OF APPEALS.

The following were the proceedings in the Court of Appeals at Staunton yesterday:

J. W. Spitler and J. A. Fauver vs. J. A. Hutcheson. Writ of mandamus denied.

J. W. Spitler and J. A. Fauver vs. R. M. Guy. Writ of mandamus denied.

Theses are cases in which petitioners asked for mandamus requiring registrars, J. A. Hutcheson and R. M. Guy, to erase from Staunton registration lists all names added since May 7th, and represents action on the part of the dry faction in consequence of the wet victory of July 12th.

John S. Barbour vs. Daniel A. Grimsley. From Circuit Court of Culpeper. Petition for writ of prohibition denied.

Bowling Spotts Co. vs. Joran, trustee. Argued and submitted.

Chesapeake and Ohio Railway Company vs. Fortune. Argued and submitted.

Harvey vs. Hoffman. Continued until next term.

Southern Express Company vs. Edward B. Jacobs; removed to Richmond.

The following order was entered in the case of John S. Barbour vs. Daniel A. Grimsley, judge, upon a petition for a writ of prohibition.

This day came again the parties by counsel and the court having maturely considered the transcript of the record of the petition aforesaid and arguments of counsel is of the opinion for reasons set forth in paragraphs four, five, six and seven of the answer of the Hon. Daniel A. Grimsley, judge of the circuit court of Culpeper county, upon the authority of Brown vs. Epps, 91 Va. 726; Smith vs. Bryan, mayor, 100 Va. 199, and Henrico county vs. City of Richmond, 106 Va. 282 that the prayer of petitioner for a writ of prohibition is denied.

This was to prohibit Judge Grimsley from appointing a commissioner of the revenue for Culpeper.

A writ of error and supersedeas was granted in the case of A. C. Ellington's administrators vs. a Norfolk electric railway.

Court finished business yesterday and adjourned today to meet next in Richmond.

TRAINS COLLIDE.

During a terrific thunderstorm at 6 o'clock yesterday evening a New York and Washington train, speeding toward the capital, and a Baltimore and Philadelphia accomodation train were in collision at Bay View junction, on the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, just outside of Baltimore.

The accomodation train was backing into a siding to the give the express the right of way. The coaches had reached the siding, but the locomotive was still on the main track when the express came thundering along. Engineer William Pierce, of the express, jammed on his air brakes, while Engineer S. A. Selby and Fireman J. V. Howard, of the accomodation, seeing that a collision was inevitable, jumped for their lives.

The impact was so great that the accommodation locomotive leaped into the air, turned over, and rolled down a 20-foot embankment. It was reduced to junk, and the engineer and fireman who had jumped were caught in the heap of debris and coal. They were slightly injured. The locomotive of the express was derailed, and another engine had to be called to take the express through to Washington. The passengers on the trains escaped serious injury.

HISTORIC ALEXANDRIA.

When Mr. A. J. Wedderburn first asked Council to make some allowance as to the expense which would follow the preparation of the book he contemplated preparing, a city officer who had visited the Philadelphia, Chicago and other similar expositions and noted the piles of printed matter for gratuitous distribution and with which few tourists cared to burden themselves, asked the question, "After you get the books who is to see that they are judiciously distributed; certainly no one but an Alexandria, and who is that Alexandrian?" The same person suggested weeks ago that it might not be unprofitable to turn a certain number over to the courteous tiler of Washington Lodge to give to each party, not persons, a copy. Mr. Chas. H. Callahan, who has just returned from the Jamestown Exposition says he noticed the large amount of literature, tons of it; that visitors would not have forced on them and he also says arrangements could be made to have a distribution made of some of the books in the lodge room. Indeed, this seems to be a splendid method, for it is known that hundreds will visit the lodge room in the next ten or twelve weeks. In addition to other advantages of this method the books will go into the hands of persons who visit historic Alexandria and not be thrown away by those who might get them at Jamestown, but would not come near our city. As the Gazette has previously stated, the books can be kept and distributed from time to time. Let 500 be handed to Alexandria-Washington Lodge and Council would no doubt approve any such action by the mayor and the committee on public property.

Mayor Paff is now engaged in making arrangements for shipping a large number of the books to Washington to Mr. M. V. Richards, of the Southern Railway Company, who will ship them to the Jamestown Exposition for judicious distribution there.

DAY OF ATONEMENT.

The Jewish Day of Atonement began at sunset yesterday evening and will close at sunset today. Services were held in the synagogue on north Washington street last night from 7:30 until 9:15 o'clock. They were conducted by Rabbi A. Blum, of Chicago, and were very interesting, impressive and instructive. His text was from Deuteronomy XIV., 1—"Ye are the children of the Lord your God." The speaker in quoting the words of Moses, forcibly impressed upon his hearers the part they had played in the history of the centuries, their blessings and tribulations, the mission of the children of Israel and the fined dissemination to the world of the revelation made to them at the dawn of history. The reverend gentleman was listened to with close attention. Services will be continued today in the synagogue, and today will be observed generally as a time of fasting and prayer, during which no pious Israelite will engage in any secular avocation.

EXCITEMENT ON A TRAIN.

There was some excitement on the electric train which left Washington at 11:10 o'clock last night for this city. Among the passengers was an elderly man who engaged in a colloquy with the conductor concerning a ticket. The conductor finally told the man he must pay his fare or leave the train at the next station. The passenger refused to comply with the demand of the conductor when the train was brought to a stop, and the latter attempted to force the man to leave the car. A scuffle ensued, during which one of the old man's hands was cut by striking against a seat and blood oozed from the wound. The other passengers, nearly all of whom apparently sympathized with the passenger, became indignant and an excited scene followed. Several occupants of the car offered to pay the old man's fare in order to keep him from being ejected. The train later started toward this city with the old man aboard.

POLICE COURT.

[Justice H. B. Caton presiding.]

The following cases were disposed of this morning:

A white man, charged with carrying concealed weapons, was dismissed.

John Jordan, colored, charged with assaulting Catherine Timbers, also colored, was fined $5.

A white man, charged with drunkenness, was sent to jail for 20 days.

Charles Rahning, charged with assaulting Ray Moore, was fined $5.

Samuel Smith and Gertrude Thomas, both colored, charged with keeping unlicensed dogs, were dismissed.

A youth charged with conducting the painting business without a license, was dismissed.

THE SEMINARY.

The Episcopal Theological Seminary reopened today after the summer recess, with an attendance of about fifty students—twenty-one of which are new men—which is an unusually large number. The opening was under most auspicious conditions and a successful year is promised.

A handsone stone cross has recently been placed upon the west gable of the chapel of the seminary by the class of 1906.

THE WEATHER.

The sultry weather of yesterday was followed early in the night by thunder storms north and west of this city. The lightning was almost incessant, and shortly after 8 o'clock the wind changed to the north when the temperature became more pleasant. Light showers followed. The weather today has been cloudy and rain fell this evening.

NEW STORE.

Swan Bros., the popular dry goods merchants of this city, are moving into their new store, northeast corner of King and Pitt streets, opposite their old stand, which was closed yesterday and today. The new store will be opened at 8 o'clock tonight, and the public have been extended a cordial invitation to be present. No goods will be sold on this occasion, but an inspection of the new stock of fall and winter merchandise, which will be on sale Thursday morning, is invited. The new quarters of the firm is an old stand, the dry goods business having been conducted there by different parties for over half a century. The store has been completely metamorphosed and modernized, and will compare favorably with those of the larger cities. The front and massive show windows are especially attractive. Swan Bros. have been in business in this city but a few years, but their house is one of Alexandria's fixed institutions. The members of the firm are enterprising and accommodating gentlemen and their many customers have ever experienced satisfaction in dealing with them. This house carries at all times a large and varied stock, and its patrons are steadily increasing. The success of Swan Bros. is but another illustration of the fact that business can be conducted as satisfactorily in Alexandria as anywhere else provided practical men are at the head of the enterprises.

BROTHERHOOD OF ST. ANDREW

The pre-convention meeting of the Alexandria Local Assembly of the Brotherhood of St. Andrew was held in Grace Protestant Episcopal Church last night. Rev. Edgar Carpenter, rector of the church, delivered the address of welcome, and the principal speech was made by Mr. Bert T. Amos, of Washington, corresponding secretary and treasurer of the national council, which was one of the most interesting and instructive ever delivered before the brotherhood. Rev. W. J. Morton, rector of Christ Episcopal Church, and Rev. P. P. Phillips, rector of St. Paul's Episcopal Church, participated in the exercises. The attendance was large and much interest was shown by all present.

A London Banquet of 1582.

A Spanish visitor to London in 1582 describes a banquet of that day. "I will tell you no lye," he begins cautiously. "I saw such kindes of meate eaten as are wont to be sene and not eaten—as a horse rosted, a cat in gely, little lizars with whot broth, frogges fried and divers other sortes of meates, which I sawe theme eate, but I never knew what they were till they were eaten." The "quaking custard" of that period was a huge dish in the middle of the table, into which, "at a private signal, the city fool suddenly leaped over the heads of the astonished feasters, who were instantly bespattered with this rich and savory mud." Undeterred, however, by this nasty behavior, the citizens not only ate plentifully of the custard, but even took some home to their wives. Nor were the women of those days backward in demanding expensive dainties for themselves, it seems, for an essayist of 1601 sarcastically asks: "Who will not admire our nice dames of London, who must have cherries at 20 shillings a pound and peascods at 5 shillings a peck? Yong rabbettes of a spanne and chickens of an inch?"

Slaves In Scotland.

Were there once slaves in Scotland? A volume on Scottish industrial and social history in the eighteenth and nineteenth centuries has some passages on the subject:

"It shocks us very much to learn that the men, and even the women, who worked in the coal mines at that time—i. e., the eighteenth century—in Scotland still continued to be, as of old, little better than slaves. By a law passed by the Scottish parliament in 1606 every man who once went to work in a coal mine was bound to labor in it all his life as a "necessary servant." If he tried to run away he was tried and punished as a thief. If the land was sold on which the coal pit stood in which he worked he was sold with it like any of the machinery of the pit. In 1775 an act of parliament was passed which set free most of the pit workers, but it was not till the end of the century that this form of slavery was quite abolished."

Odd Occurrence In the Hunting Field

On the afternoon of Feb. 8, 1794, the hounds of his grace the Duke of Beaufort were in full cry. The run had been a long one, and they knew that the fox was almost spent. Suddenly the scent turned abruptly from the open, leading straight into the garden of a cottage in the little village of Castle Coombe. Those who were following wondered what had happened and were more astonished still to see the entire pack, without checking for an instant, dash through the open door into the little room. A shrill scream was heard, and when the whipper in threw himself from his horse and gained the threshold he saw a sight which probably no fox hunter has ever met before or since. A white faced woman stood clasping a child in her arms, and right there in the cradle, from which the infant had just been snatched, eighteen couple of fierce hounds were struggling to devour their fox.

The Auto Habit.

Some delver has found in the Bible what he believes to be a hint of automobiles. It is contained in the story of the vision of Nahum, the Elkoshite, concerning the burden of Nineveh. In the account given by this seer of the military array of the Medes and Babylonians against Nineveh occurs this verse: "The chariots shall rage in the streets, they shall jostle one against the other in the broad way, they shall seem like torches, they shall run like the lightning." If that doesn't describe a street full of motor cars what does? Then, again, a variant of the word "jostle," which the original Hebrew will, it is said, bear even better, is "pass swiftly, without particular purpose, to and fro." Isn't that the automobile habit?

Smoking a Pipe.

The Canadian Cigar and Tobacco Journal gives some hints to those who smoke pipes. Everybody thinks he knows how to smoke a pipe, but to do it perfectly is not easy. "Time is a keynote of successful pipe smoking," says the Journal, "and another is gentleness. Take it easy. Don't crowd the pipe to the top of the bowl. Never get a pipe hot. Keep cool, and keep your pipe cool. You can relight a pipe, and if you are an old smoker you will be all the better for it. When you have finished do not refill a heated pipe."

Washington Monument.

The towering Washington monument, solid as it is, cannot resist the heat of the sun poured on its southern side on a midsummer's day without a slight bending of the gigantic shaft, which is rendered perceptible by means of a copper wire 174 feet long hanging in the center of the structure and carrying a plummet suspended in a vessel of water.

Animal Voices.

A cow will moo about an octave; a dog will bark a fourth or fifth of an octave; a horse's neigh is a descent on the chromatic scale, while the donkey will bray in octaves. No donkey has ever yet given evidence of proficiency in the study of voice production.

Success.

The Youth—Yes, I'm in business for myself, but I don't seem to be able to meet with any success. The Sage—Nobody ever meets with success, young man. He must overtake it.

A good way to teach a child to behave is to behave yourself.—Quincy Whig.

The ills peculiar to women, take different forms.

Some ladies suffer, every month, from dark rings round their eyes, blotches on their skin and tired feeling. Others suffer agonies of pain, that words can hardly express.

Whatever the symptoms, remember there is one medicine that will go beyond mere symptoms, and act on the cause of their troubles, the weakened womanly organs.

Wine of Cardui

Mrs. M. C. Austin, of Memphis, Tenn., writes: "For five (5) years I suffered with every symptom of female disease, but after using the well-known Cardui Home Treatment, I was entirely well."

Think Lightly of It.

The road to home happiness is said to lie over small stepping stones. So small sometimes are the causes of our unhappiness that we wonder the consequences can be so great. One great palliative is the determination by every member of the family not to dwell on the circumstances, whatever they may be, which are alike sad to all. If it be poverty let it be cheerfully and silently borne; if it be the ill temper of grandpa try to make a joke of it. If it be something infinitely worse and also hopeless accept it bravely; do not talk of it. Try in the family circle to ignore it. Accept every little enlivening circumstance. Let in all the sun and air. Work on cheerily and hopefully, knowing that there is the ray of sunshine somewhere that has only to be looked for to be found.

Squeezing the Grapes.

"In wine making," said a wine expert, "the grapes are squeezed from one to six times, and from each squeeze a different grade of wine is made." That is why from one district and from one firm so many varieties of wine come. These varieties don't mean that each is made from a different kind of grape. They mean, as a rule, that they are made from different squeezes of the same grape. The first squeeze of course makes the best and dearest wine. When you buy this grade you will always find on the label the words 'Premier Cru,' first squeeze."

Tricks of the Types.

A laughable error occurred in one of the large publishing houses a number of years ago. A poet had sent in a manuscript in which was the line, "See the pale martyr in a sheet of fire." The reputation of the writer was nearly ruined when the work came out with the line, "See the pale martyr with his shirt on fire."

When a favorite speaker rose and was greeted with thunderous applause his party paper came out and said, "The vast concourse rent the air with their snouts."

More Exciting.

Tout—Has Jones quit the race track because of reform, or what? Jockey—Reform nothing! He wanted something more uncertain to bet his money on. Tout—But what could he find more uncertain than a horse race? Jockey—He's taken to betting whether or not the weather man will correctly predict the day's condition.—Florida Times-Union.

Not Cheap.

Aged Husband—You are going to ruin me with your extravagance. You don't need that cape any more than a cat needs two tails. How often have I told you never to buy anything because it is cheap? Young Wife (with an air of one who has got the better of the argument)—But it was not cheap. It cost 10 guineas.—London Fun.

In a New Light.

Fair Visitor—So you have really decided not to sell your house? Fair Hostess—Yes. You see, we placed the matter in the hands of a real estate agent. After reading his lovely advertisement of our property neither John nor myself could think of parting with such a wonderful and perfect home.

Attack of Diarrhoea Cured by One Dose of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy.

I was so week from an attack of diarrhoea that I could scarcely attend to my duties, when I took a dose of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. It cured me entirely and I had been taking other medicine for nine days without relief. I heartily recommend this remedy as being the best to my knowledge for bowel complaints.—R. G. Stewart, of the firm of Stewart & Bro., Greenville, Ala. For sale by W. F. Creighton & Co. and Gibson & Timberman.

Health in the Canal Zone.

The high wages paid makes it a mighty temptation to our young artisans to join the force of skilled workmen needed to construct the Panama Canal. Many are restrained however by the fear of fevers and malaria. It is the knowing ones—those who have used Electric Bitters, who go there without this fear, well knowing they are safe from malarious influence with Electric Bitters on hand. Cures blood poison too, billiousness, weakness and all stomach, liver and kidney troubles. Guaranteed at E. S. Leadbeater & Son's drug store. 50c.
